About ASIS International

ASIS International (ASIS) is the largest membership organization for security management professionals that crosses industry sectors, embracing every discipline along the security spectrum from operational to cybersecurity. Founded in 1955, ASIS is dedicated to increasing the effectiveness of security professionals at all levels.

With membership and chapters around the globe, ASIS develops and delivers board certifications and industry standards, hosts networking opportunities, publishes the award-winning Security Management magazine, and offers educational programs, including Global Security Exchange—the security industry's most influential event. Whether providing thought leadership through the CSO Center for the industry's most senior executives or advocating before business, government, or the media, ASIS is focused on advancing the profession, and ensuring that the security community has access to intelligence, resources, and technology needed within the business enterprise.

"After retiring from the army, a colleague recommended I join ASIS, and the association was invaluable in my learning process about transition and specifically into the private, non-DoD, sector."

Rose Miller, CPP, CHPA Consultant

Communities Build Connections

An ASIS member benefit, our more than 30 Subject Area Communities provide an open forum for security professionals from every industry sector to share best practices, collaborate on common issues, and discuss emerging trends. Of special interest to military members:

MILITARY LIAISON COMMUNITY

Serves the professional needs of our ASIS military members; promotes understanding, cooperation, and synergy among private security, ASIS International, and the military services; and encourages the advancement of professional security competency of military professionals through educational resources, training, and certification.

Reach New Heights in Professional Excellence

Earn accredited certifications from ASIS.

Your uniform speaks volumes about your personal strengths: dedication, leadership, resilience. Earning an ASIS board certification conveys your professional strengths: mastery of security principles and skills, experience, and a commitment to excellence.

Distinguished by their global development and application, ASIS accredited certifications are transferable across all industry sectors and geographic borders. For government and military security professionals, earning one or more certifications:

- Provides a way to build upon previous security experience
- Helps develop a proactive orientation
- Eases the transition to a career in the private sector

ASIS CERTIFICATIONS:

- Certified Protection Professional (CPP)
Considered the 'gold standard' certification for security management professionals, earning the CPP is demonstrable proof of your knowledge and competency in seven key domains essential to the practice of security management.
- Professional Certified Investigator (PCI)
Earning the PCI provides independent confirmation of your knowledge and experience in case management, evidence collection, and preparation of reports and testimony to substantiate findings.
- Physical Security Professional (PSP)
PSP certification validates knowledge in physical security assessments, application, design, and integration of physical security systems, and implementation of security measures.
- Associate Protection Professional (APP)
Provides the first "rung" on the security manager's career ladder for those with 1-4 years of security management experience.

The ASIS Certified Protection Professional designation distinguished me as more than a military leader, but a technical professional within the security and protection disciplines. Peer credibility in the industry is an imperative. Like the American Medical Association does for physicians, so too does ASIS for protection professionals.

COL(R) H. Tracy Williams III, CPP

By earning one or more designations, employers, partners, and peers will instantly recognize you as being among the "best of the best".

Qualified U.S. applicants may receive reimbursement for the certification exams through the G.I. Bill. An application is available at www.gibill.va.gov or call +1.888.442.4551 and request VA Form 22-1990.
